

Gregory C. DiCarlo

Gregory C. DiCarlo is the managing partner of the firm's New Jersey practice. He concentrates his practice in workers' compensation litigation matters for a variety of insurance carriers on behalf of their insureds, as well as self-insured entities, in all venues throughout the state of New Jersey. Mr. DiCarlo also has a sub-specialty in defending various professional sports teams throughout New Jersey.

Apart from his workers' compensation practice, Mr. DiCarlo also has experience in the defense of personal injury claims, notably, in general insurance liability litigation, motor vehicle and premises liability matters. He has also represented employers in protecting their intellectual property rights, primarily through anti-counterfeiting litigation.

Mr. DiCarlo is a member of the American Trial Lawyers Association and the American Inns of Court (Camden/Burlington, NJ Chapter). He is also a member of the New Jersey and Pennsylvania Bar Associations.

Mr. DiCarlo is admitted to practice in all New Jersey state courts, as well as in all vicinages of the U.S. District Court in New Jersey. He is equally admitted to practice in all Pennsylvania state courts, as well as the U.S. District Courts for the Eastern and Middle Districts of Pennsylvania and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit. His New York Bar Admission is pending.

Mr. DiCarlo graduated from Loyola College in Baltimore, Maryland in 1993 with a B.A. in Political Science and History. He then went on to attend the Widener University School of Law and obtained his J.D. in 1997. At Widener, Mr. DiCarlo was an active member of the Moot Court Honor Society and was awarded the Distinguished Service Award, as well as the National Order of the Barristers.

Mr. DiCarlo, his wife Emily, his son Charlie and his daughters, Ellie Rose and Lucy, reside in southern New Jersey.
